Open road adventures: self-guided cycling

Inject energetic vibes into your life this summer and hop on your bike! Cycling has never been so popular around the west of Scotland and with CalMac you can explore our stunning destinations at your own pace on the open road. From small children to more advanced cyclists there are many routes and destinations to suit all capabilities.

It's free and easy to travel on our ferries with your bicycle – staff will instruct you on how to board, where to store your bike and help you secure it if needed.

TIPS FOR TOURING BY BIKE

- Ensure you plan your route carefully giving yourself plenty of time to reach each ferry terminal.
- Plan your accommodation prior to your departure and book in advance.
- There are plenty of pubs and cafés in the towns. However make sure you have appropriate supplies with you if your route is very rural.
- Be prepared! The weather can quickly change so it is best to take clothing that can keep you cool and warm.

Advice for beginner and intermediate cyclists

Find a route that suits you; start off simple with a low amount of miles for a day trip and build up to going away for a weekend or a week's touring by bike. Always be self-sufficient with a spare inner tube, puncture repair kit, the right clothing, food and water. Make sure your bike is serviced and that your saddle is the correct height for you which will save you a lot of energy.

Suggested cycle routes

Beginners and families:
Take the ferry from Laros

Intermediate routes:
Take the train to Wemvss
